The Chairman's Cab

Wow, what an AGM, around 65 members in attendance, well done everyone for coming along, it was a great evening, new members, old members and lots of socialising around the braai fire afterwards. Welcome to all the new members, it's great to have you all on board, and I hope that your stay with the club is a long and fulfilling one.

So what happened at the AGM, quite a bit in fact? We welcome Sarel, Kobus, Dwayne, and Max to the committee, thanks for your commitment and we know that you will make a difference. Sarel has even put in a new battery and spark plugs to Noddy his play vehicle, doubt that anyone will recognized the sound of it any more, his has been the only 5 cylinder Cruiser around for years now.

Sadly, and we do not know why, we were informed on the evening that we were not welcome back to Bill Buchanan retirement village , so we have been going there for a long time now. Thanks to Gary van Schoor for offering his place for us to use for the noggins. Check out the article under Noggins for the next noggins address.

Dave and Tessa Murray informed us that they were retiring to the finest Cape next month. We wish Dave and Tessa well in their new venture and thank them both for being such good fun guys in the club; we will miss all the laughter and that Hilux showing us all how it's done on the challenges. So too has Nigel Crookes from Richards Bay decided to move on down to the Cape, Good luck with your new venture in the cape Nigel.

It was agreed unanimously that we would move the AGM forward from February next year to October this year. It's all in the name of logistics for the committee and Club as a whole.

The out- going committee were all voted back on so together with the new incoming guys, things look really good for the future.

The end of February is unfortunately k.K en betaal time. Jennifer will be hounding everyone for their annual subs which remains untouched at R350 for the year or a mere R29.16 per month.

After all these years, sixteen in fact, Roger, our ever reliable and informative and trusty and hard working Noggins, motor mouth and anything else that needed something done committee member has decided to call it a day. We do not blame you Roger you have given it your all for a long time now, take a bow, but a word of warning, if you do not continue with your motor mouth there will be trouble. Thanks for everything over the years.

Ciao

PS. This is Edition of Traction is a whopping 22 pages long, I trust that you enjoy reading it as much as have.

Many thanks to Carol for all the time and effort put into the Traction.

Noggins

April 2013

Some good news and some bad news

First the good news, last month's noggins/AGM had the best turnout we have experienced for a very long time and those attending saw what a nice spot we had at Bill Buchanan's retirement centre.

The bad news is that we can't use that venue any more as it is to be used by residents only in future. This means that we have to find a new venue, come on; someone out there must have an idea of a suitable venue, if you have any suggestions please contact any committee member.

This month we want to try something different, a Thursday afternoon (the 21st is a public holiday) get together for a walk through a nature park and for the not so energetic, you can light the braai fires, sit back and drink. We are planning to go to Mpithi nature park in Kloof, there are short nature trails for hiking, a dam for feeding ducks and geese, fishing too if you don't want to catch anything. Birds and lots of greenery.

Come on join us for a pleasant afternoon, meet the new committee and don't forget your bird and tree books.

This Month:

Venue: Mpithi Nature Reserve

Date and time: Thursday 21 April 2013 @ 14h00

Topic: Nature ramble

Bring: Your own eats, utensils, little brown bottles and A Friend

Directions:

From DBN: Take exit 26 from the M13, turn right across the bridge, sharp right into Camp rd (runs alongside the m13 coming from Pmb), first right into Camp Rd across the railway line, left into Edward drive and Mpithi is on your right.

From Pmb: Take exit 26 from the M13, (runs alongside the m13 coming from Pmb), first left into Camp Rd across the railway line, left into Edward drive and Mpithi is on your right

Looking forward to seeing ALL our members there,

THE COMMUNITY

This area the Bush Camp is situated in is known as Bhanga's Nek. There are ± 150 - 200 people living there. This area is ruled by Induna Gilbert Ngubane. There is 1 pre-primary school in this area and 1 Primary/High school at Malageni - that is the area just before Bhanga's Nek. Poverty is very real in this area. School clothes, shoes, books, pens, colouring books & pencils etc... are very welcome. There is also a boom in the baby department. Young ones from 6 months to 4 years old. They also have their own vegetable garden and feed the community from it. This has been such a learning experience for us personally to see how these people survive. When they receive a gift of clothes, they will wash it, hang it on the line and the community gets invited and they are allowed to take what they need. One would buy a R100.00 chuck (meat) and give it to (in our case) Joel & Pricilla our land lord. She will cook it and invite the community to eat with them. I have never seen R100.00 meat stretch so far. This is just a few of our experiences we wanted to share with you.

- In short donations appreciated for the following;

We would like to build / erect a steel frame covered with wire for locals to grow vegetables in, because they have a major problem with monkeys, wild pigs and hippos eating and destroying their vegetables - so any donations regarding the above will be much appreciated.

Any old Clothes

School accessories

School wear - white shirts / grey pants

Baby clothes

Vegetable seeds

Khubelu River Valley Adventure, Lesotho. Friday 26th to Monday 29th April

For anyone who loves 4x4 driving, campfires in the open fresh air, horse rides in the mountains, fishing, hiking, relaxing in the mountains, good company, and then this trip is for you.

We leave Himeville at 09h00 on the Friday morning and make for our campsite on the Khubelu River. Depending on river water levels, we will have the option of two routes.

One through the rivers or if the levels are too high then via the Litseng diamond mine.

Never mind which route you take, both are fantastic 4x4 drives. The camp site has a large communal Lapa; there are braai facilities and reasonable ablution facilities at the camp site.

There are hot water springs close by that we could explore, either by walking or mountain pony, and have a look.

The camp is known as one of the better fishing spots in the Fly area and this is only one of the camp sites. There are 30 other campsites in the area, but this is only one of the better ones. It is quite a bit to be driven and really done in the mountains.

If you are unable to make it for the whole duration, remember the way out a gain. It is a bit to trip log and get lost. We will self-sufficient for the duration of our stay, there are no shops, filling stations, restaurants, arcades, movie houses or casinos close by. We will have to take all our own fire wood, fresh water and meals with us.

Costs will be R120 per person per night. For the R120, it's not what you get but rather what you don't get that will make this such a great weekend.

Should you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Gerald O'Brien 082 8746138 or Gerald@halfway.ws

4x4 Challenge, 10th March Umzinto Quarry

The club had an excellent day at the Umzinto quarry on Sunday, and for all the spectators who came out, they were treated to some spectacular driving skills by our members and even more, spectacular seeing what the vehicles are capable of. We had our vehicles at all sort of angles, sideways, up, down you name we did it. There were no roll overs or body damage done to any of the vehicles, but in some cases it did come very very close to it. Good skills prevailed to give the crowd an absolute blast. Well done to all those who competed, it was a great day of 4x4 driving, good sportsmanship and camaraderie between club members. We did twelve obstacles, which were long and technical obstacles which kept us busy from our 09h30 start right up until around 15h00 with a lunch break in between. Trevor had his new vehicle out for the first time which went very well, he shared it with Sarel who also drove very well on the day.

Sarel has promised us that once he eventually sorts out his Noddy, we will see him in action competing against Trevor once more. Trevor's bright red vehicle eventually gave in with 2 obstacles to go when the two front wheels ended up facing each other. Serious alignment problems. Mohammed's Prado took a forced break when the battery terminal came up against one of the aluminium aircon pipes. After removing the terminal for ten minutes and then replacing it, the Prado was able to continue once more. By removing the terminal for a while it gave the vehicles computer time to reset itself. Good thing to remember for the future. The picture below will best show how the challenge went.

Thanks to Halfway for sponsoring the toilet for us once more, halfway are always there when we really need them.

Motor Mouth's" FAQs and Tips Page

I hope you all fared well over the season and are looking forward to all the New Year has to throw at you.

I wonder how many new years resolutions are already history? Me myself I'm a good boy, haven't broken my resolution cos I was careful not to make one.

To start the New Year, no sprouting forth with boring drivel, this time I've decided to give you some handy hints that work.

1. Have you ever tightened one of those hose clamps with a screwdriver, only to have it slip and gouge a hole in your hand? Avoid further injury by making a simple spanner that tightens both common bolt sizes - and it comes with a lifetime guarantee! Buy two Allen screw caps (8 mm by 75 mm and 10 mm by 75 mm) from your hardware store, grind the threads off (to protect your hands), grind a flat halfway down the bolts, then weld them together in the shape of a cross. The cap fits like a socket spanner over the hex head, making it very easy to tighten the bolt. Should last a lifetime.
2. Ever had trouble trying to loosen a screw where the slot or x has been worn away and you can't seem to get a good grip, Try dipping the screwdriver tip into valve grinding paste, you'll be surprised how well it grips.
3. Are you tired of spending a lot of money on hand cleaners that don't work? (All they do is spread the grease more evenly over your hands.) The solution is cheap and wonderfully easy: use a good washing-up liquid, a scouring powder (Vim) and a splash of warm water. Put a small quantity of dry scouring powder into one hand, squeeze a bit of washing liquid on top of it, and rub your hands together briskly. Rinse under a warm tap, and Bob's your uncle. The washing liquid and scouring powder combine to form a granular paste, and the end result is clean hands.
4. What with the recent power blackouts and more to come you need a safe, practical and mess-proof candleholder. Try this. Cut out the centre section of an empty 2-litre plastic bottle. Invert the top section, place it in the bottom section, and staple the two sections together. Next, fill the bottom part way with water (for ballast), then fit a candle into the inverted funnel. If you like, you can decorate your candleholder with coloured water and craft paint.

5. Although 12-volt cordless power tools are very useful, once their batteries expire, they end up as useless clutter in our workshops. Problem is replacement batteries are exorbitantly expensive - in some cases costing more than the price of a new tool. I've come up with a workable solution. Buy a sealed 12-volt alarm or gate motor battery; this should cost you no more than R150. Remove and discard the old battery pack, open up the tool and connect a heavy duty 2-core cable to the appropriate points, then close up the tool. You can place the battery on your workbench, or if you prefer the portable option, carry it in a sling bag over your shoulder. The battery can be recharged with any 12-volt charger. I've been using mine for over three years, and the battery is still perfect.

Enough already with the tips, how about sending in some of yours, they are always welcome and I won't have to work so hard thinking up new subjects every month.

"Motor Mouth" wishing you all a very happy and prosperous new year, keep these hints in the back of your mind, remember, work smarter not harder.

Public Relations by Trevor Wheeler

On Wednesday 1st May (workers day), the KZN Ezemvelo Wildlife Durban North honorary Rangers will be having an open day at the Beachwood Mangroves Nature Reserve from 10h00 through to 16h00. Entrance is free and all are welcome. Trevor is going to set up a club display for the day and is looking for any interested parties to assist with this as well as to assist with manning the stand for the day. This sort of show is usually a fun thing and quite enjoyable. Please if there are any members who would like to get involved, please do not hesitate to contact Trevor Wheeler.

On Sunday 19th May the annual cars In The Park will be held in Pietermaritzburg. Again, the club will be doing a display for the day and then manning the stand. This is a quick fun day with lots to see if you are a motoring enthusiast. Please give Trevor a ring if you are able to assist.

From Friday 24th May all the way through to Saturday 1st June, the annual Royal Show will be held at the show grounds in Pietermaritzburg. We have been invited by the Midlands team to bring along our pamphlets and application forms and share their club house with them for the duration. Trevor would like to draw up a roster with the times that any interested parties could help man the club house. If it's for an hour, that will help us and the club and it would be appreciated.

Should you be able to put in a bit of time, please give Trevor a ring so that he can get the roster going.

These Shows are all about spreading the name of the 4x4 club in Kwa-Zulu Natal and increasing the membership numbers wherever possible. For us the members who man the display/ stands it's a bit of quality time spent talking to like-minded thinking people and letting them know about what happens in the 4x4 club. We do not pay for these opportunities and appreciate the invites whenever they come our way.

Trip Report Back. Lesotho, 1st 3rd March

Route: Mount Currie, Matatiele, Quacha's Nek, Sehlabatheba, Matabeng pass, Sehongong, Black mountain, Sani top.

The trip was made up of 11 people in 5 vehicles. trip was to start off by leaving Mount Currie nature reserve by 08h00 on the Friday morning; this made sense to some of us to spend the Thursday night at Mount Currie. Some were unlucky and through work commitments could only make it on the Friday morning, Terry and Lyn were quite sharp and because they left home so late booked into a local b&b in Kokstad. This left Joop, Hennie and I to do the camping bit. It poured down, from about 5 minutes after we got the tents pitched, right through the night and into the morning.

Mount Currie is a great little resort a few Kilometers outside Kokstad, the campsite is on the edge of a dam, the zebras roam freely through the camp and we were fortunate enough to witness a very frisky pair of hare's doing what could have been a courting dance. We braaied under the cars awning, stood around because the chairs were wet and when we could stand no longer we went to bed.

By 08h30 we were on our way to Matatiele for our final fill up until we would reach Himeville a few days later. If ever you are in Matatiele, go to the butchery just around the corner from the BP garage for the finest Biltong in the Eastern Cape. Getting in to Lesotho was no

The Lesotho officials were all very friendly and quite efficient, such a pity we could not say the same about the SA side. Our first stop was in only 2 or 3 kilometers where we simply could not pass the local off sales without stocking up on the local Maluti beer. It's not brewed or sold in SA but it's a great beer and should be taken in large quantities, especially on rainy evening like we were to experience once more that evening. We stayed over at the Kings Holiday home, which is situated in the centre of

The home was un-inhabited, fortunately for our travellers as some chose to rather take refuge under the zinc roof than risk the elements outside. Terry, I must admit, did have the well-being of the few us who were braving the mountain kingdoms elements outside. At once stage terry admitted to opening the front door to check up on us but found the cold night air too difficult to inhale and the chilly breeze touched his chest so he has to quickly re-trace his footsteps back to his sofa next to the blazing fire in the lounge. So you so much for your concern and your heroic efforts to see how we were doing. We all owe you a big one.

Saturday morning we woke to the most awesome of mountainous mornings that we could ever have wished for. The sky was a deep blue and the clearest sky that I have ever seen. The contrast of the blue skies with the lush green mountain sides

Not for Terry the night before and peak of Matabeng interesting one, but was reasonable and straight forward.

The lunch point at the bottom of Matabeng pass is one of the great stop over points in Lesotho, and if ever you are in the area, it's certainly one of the best campsites ever. Shady poplar trees with a strong flowing river, you have everything you will ever need. The drive from the lunch stop point to the campsite is a fantastic one, on the one side you have the Senqu River meandering at the bottom of a mighty gorge and on the other side tall Majestic Mountain's making up the true Mountain Kingdom.

The campsite that evening, and much to the delight of terry, because it didn't rain, was in the banks of the Sani River and in the middle of nowhere. As Joop put it, we were camping wild and it was great. There were a few local youngsters that pitched up to watch us, but they are honestly not a problem, they are simply fascinated by what we have and what we do. There is no need to be abrupt or aggressive towards them, ask them to keep their distance and they do. The secret is to never give them anything at all. Promise them that when you leave in the morning they will be given whatever it is that you want to give them, left- over food, fire wood etc. The remainder of the trip to the Sani top again took us through some awesome mountain passes and scenery and the final 100kms took us around 4, 5 hours which included stop overs every now and again.

The good news about the Sani top chalet is that it has changed hands and changes for the better are already noticeable.

The road from Sani top to Mokhotlong is already being ripped up by the Chinese and should be tarred the whole way by 2015. Construction work on the road from the Sani pass Hotel to the border post is due to get under way by May and should be completed by 2015. Tarring the Sani, who knows, let's just hope that it never happens.

Cape Town – In the run-up to the upcoming conference of parties to the Convention on International Trade in Endangered Species of Wild Fauna and Flora (Cites) governments will debate whether to add five species of shark to the treaty on Wednesday.

According to the Pew Charitable trusts website the groups will lobby for the addition of the Scalloped Hammerhead, Porbeagle, and Oceanic whitetip. The two manta rays include the Oceanic manta and the Reef manta.

The sharks are traded for their valuable meat and fins whereas the rays are traded for their gill plates, reportedly used in Asian medicinal products.

“A positive result will limit international trade of shark fin and meat and manta gill rakers and help reduce the threat of overfishing facing these species,” stated a WWF media briefing ahead of the international teleconference.

Year of the shark

with the recent proposals for shark conservation, the Pew Environment Group is advocating for 2013 to be declared year of the shark.

Assessments by scientists for the International Union for Conservation of Nature (IUCN) have shown that 30% of sharks are threatened with extinction.

The international shark fin trade claims 73 million sharks, with most of the fins ending up in shark fin soup.

The 16th meeting of the Conference of Parties (COP) will be held from 3 - 14 March 2013 in Bangkok, Thailand.

For The Braai Fire

For the patties:

1 kg beef mince

300 g pork mince

250 g very finely chopped onion

1 cup chopped parsley

2 Tbs sea salt

Pepper to taste

3 eggs

2 cup breadcrumbs

1 cup of your favourite basting sauce

Garnish

8 bread rolls

2 onions, thinly sliced, fried with some balsamic vinegar and sugar until caramelised

1 block of Emmentaler cheese, thinly sliced

3 tomatoes, sliced

1 bag of Cos Lettuce

1 jar of pickled cucumbers (gherkins) Servings: 8

Method

Combine the meat, onion and parsley in a mixing bowl and mix together well.

Once properly mixed, spread the mix out in the bowl so you can get salt and pepper spread out evenly.

Lightly beat the eggs and add to the mixture.

Mix until the egg is incorporated, then add the breadcrumbs and mix again.

Next, make the patties. You can use a patty press as the patties end up a bit sturdier and do not fall apart so easily.

When you are done, put them in the fridge for a while to set.
Toast the rolls in the oven to crisp them up a bit, otherwise they might lap up too much of the juices and become soggy. Just cut them open and pop them under the grill for a while until they are lightly brown.
Slice the tomatoes (always sprinkle tomatoes with a bit of salt, it brings out their sweetness), slice the cheese and wash the leaves.
Fry or braai the patties over a medium high heat.
